

TEACHING AT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

TYPE OF ROLE	DESCRIPTION	QUALIFICATIONS	WHAT IS NEEDED
Guest Lecturer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Invited by professor, student organization, or department ○ May be invited to speak to a variety of students in different classes and at on-campus meetings over one or more days 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Expert; well-known in field of work 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Bio ○ List of your preferred topics, with a paragraph or two describing main points you would share ○ Offer to share your career journey in addition to your “teaching subject”
Adjunct Professor	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Part-time teaching role ○ Contract is course-specific ○ Option to co-supervise research students ○ No office on campus ○ Must create curriculum ○ Teach 1-2 classes per semester 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Bachelor’s or master’s degree or relevant industry experience—most are experts well-known in their field ○ Experience in field ○ At some schools, implies a PhD or work underway toward a doctorate ○ Expert whose primary employment or work is not at the college or university ○ Published articles, white papers, or books in field 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Detailed bio that highlights teaching/ leadership experience ○ We suggest a Professional Profile Packet including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Bio ● List of your preferred topics ● Copies of published articles that mention you ● White papers or articles you have written
Professor – fulltime and/or tenure track	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Teach 4 classes per semester ○ Develop thought leadership in field ○ Continue research and supervise student research ○ Departmental/campus meetings ○ Office and expected office hours with students 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Must publish in area of expertise to retain position and obtain tenure ○ Master’s a must; most schools require PhD or work underway toward a doctorate ○ Work in field of expertise not required 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Curriculum vitae ○ Publications ○ Description of courses you would like to teach, with course outlines, texts you would use, etc.